Letter of Recommendation

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to recommend Maximilien Delaporte, whom I have worked with closely at Heritage Holdings over the past six months in my capacity as Head of Portfolio Management.

Max joined as the second member of the Portfolio Management function, at a time when most of the analytical infrastructure didn't yet exist. He took on a significant share of its build-out: automating hedge fund NAV calculations, creating detailed client reporting templates, and reconciling holdings data across up to nine custodians and 37,000 transactions, producing insightful portfolio diagnostics. Over the period, assets under management grew from approximately $2.8bn to $4.0bn. His contribution to the infrastructure supporting that growth was real and direct.

Max's technical proficiency combining tools like Python, Excel, VBA, and Bloomberg compounds with his forward-looking approach to solving problems. His strength lies in his ability to consider long-term solutions rather than the immediate ones, which is not universal at his level, and is reflected in the quality and durability of his work. He takes feedback without friction, flags problems early, and follows through.

I recommend him without reservation for roles in investment management, quantitative finance, or other intellectually demanding environments. I'm happy to be contacted to provide any further reference if necessary.

Yours sincerely,

Andrew Madigan
